REDWOOD CITY BIDS FAREWELL TO MEN WHO HAVE RESPONDED TO THE PRESIDENT'S CALL

Last Tuesday evening will long be a memorable occasion in the history of Redwood City. Right loyally did its citizens rally to bid farewell to the young men who have been called to the defense of the great principles upon which this nation had been founded. Long will these loyal young men who have responded to the call of their country cherish a fond memory of the splendid evidence of the esteem in which they are held by their fellow citizens.

Appropriately enough, Tuesday night's splendid affair was held under the direction of the members of the local fire department, an organization of young men who have often evidenced their readiness to respond to the call of public duty. And right well did these young men demonstrate their fitness for the task assumed. Although the time for preparation was extremely short every detail was carried out with perfection. Not only was an interesting and inspiring program of exercises prepared, but every possible arrangement made for the entertainment and comfort of the guests.

The grounds surrounding the court house were handsomely and elaborately decorated for the occasion. Everywhere the National colors were displayed. From the flagstaff of the court house grounds and surrounding grounds "Old Glory" was displayed and in the lighting of the surroundings the national colors were in evidence.

The program of exercises, while short, was interesting and full of encouragement for the young men who were the guests of honor. In its every sentiment it breathed of patriotism, of appreciation of the splendid sacrifices these young men are making. And that the people joined in the sentiment was evidenced by the wrapt attnetion given.

Geo. A. Merrill, secretary of the San Mateo County exemption board, presided over the exercises, introducing the various numbers of the program. In calling the gathering to order, he outlined the occasion of the gathering by paying a splendid tribute to the young men who were about to give up the pleasures of civil life to assume the duties of the soldier at the call of their country. While his talk was brief, it was full of timely suggestion and of encouragement to the young men. In recognition of their willing sacrifices, he suggested, some enduring tribute should be erected, some permanent nich in the archives of the county be set aside. To this end he suggested that an organization be formed to the procuring of an enduring monument.

On behalf of the town of Redwood City, Mayor E. H. Sampson was introduced. Speaking briefly but to the point, Mr. Sampson extended the welcome of the city to its guests of honor as well as to the vast throng of people who had gathered to bid their sons God Speed and to wish them a safe and honorable return. He urged that all join in the festivities and make the occasion one of pleasureable memories rather than one of sadness.

The principal speaker of the evening was Judge John F. Davis, of San Francisco, who delivered an eloquent and inspiring address, full of appeal to the better elements of the manhood of American patriotism. which finally compelled this country to enter the great conflict, he made it srtongly evident that it was in defense of the same principles of democracy which actuated our forefathers of the Revolutionary War which lead the President to finally determine to call for the sacrifice to which these young men were to undertake. Even more strongly did he urge that they should remember that they were going forth to uphold the honor of American manhood and womanhood.

Another attractive part of the program was two splendid vocal selections. Wilford Crageh, an enlisted man of Company Four, Coast Artillery, at present stationed at Camp Fremont, sang the "Holy City" and responding to a persistent encore effectively rendered "My Mother's Rosary". Miss Gertrude Beeger closed the program of the evening with the "Star Spangled Banner," during the rendition of which the immense throng stood with uncovered heads. While awaiting the commencement of the formal program, and at frequent intervals during the evening the Redwood City Municipal band entertained the assemblage with appropriate seelctions. Music for the dance which followed the program was furnished by the same band, the members of which had patriotically volunteered their services. During the dancing refreshments, consisting of cake, ice cream and coffee were served by a committee of ladies to all who desired.

Following are the chairmen of the committees of the fire department to whose efforts the success of the evening was largely due:

Finance, L. E. Mullen
Entertainment, A. S. Liguori
Music, W. Lutje
Refreshments, B. L. Werder
Publicity, Erick Thompson
Street Dancing, R. Lombardini and Edward Dearborn

Aat 10 o'clock Wednesday morning the entire contingent of men selected from San Mateo county gathered at the city hall in San Mateo preparatory to their final departure for service ,where they responded to roll call by one of their number, Thomas E. Hickey, son of Supervisor Hickey of South San Francisco. At 10:30 the men marched from the city hall to the plaza fronting the depot, escorted by the pupils of the public schools of San Mateo and the high school cadet band. While awaiting the arrival of the special train which wa sto convey the men to San Francisco a short but very interesting program in honor of the departing men was rendered.

This was opened withthe singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the assembled school pupils. Addresses were made by E. E. Cunningham of South San Francisco, a veteran of the Civil War and a member of the exemption board; Lieutenant J. A. Crozier of the British recruiting mission; J. E. McCurdy, representing the San Mateo chamber of commerce, and Thomas E. Hickey, who responded on behalf of the departing men A committee of the Redwood City Chapter of the Red Cross, consisting of Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. J. N. Winter, Mrs. J. A. McAuliffe and Mrs Charles Locker, presented each of the Redwood City boys as they boarded the train with a comfort bag which had been especially prepared for the occasion. Promptly on schedule time the train pulled out of the depot amid the cheers and farewells of the assembled crowd.

VICTIMS OF AUTO COLLISION SUES BUILDERS OF MACHINE

Inglebright Ericksen; a passenger on a motor truck, driven by Lorenz Van Soosten, which went over an embankment near "schoolhouse cut" on the coastside a short time ago, has commenced suit in the superior court against the Chevrolet Motor company and Fred W. West, for the sum of $10,675. The complaint states that the motor truck was proceeding along the right side of the road at a speed of six miles per hour when an automobile driven by West, an employe of the Chevrolet company, traveling at the rate of 30 miles per hour, tried to pass on the left side and striking the front wheels of the truck threw it over the embankment. Ericksen claims to have been caught under the truck when it turned over, and to have suffered a fractured head and deep lacerations of the face causing him to be permanently disfigured.

The stork left a baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Cloud, Aberdeen, Washington, on September 16, 1917.

CAMP FREMONT ECONOMICAL PLACE TO KEEP SOLDIERS

H. L. Williams, proprietor of the Capital market ,yesterday received a letter from a mess sergeant who left Camp Fremont last week. He writes as follows:

"Arrived safe in Camp Greene, N. C. It is a camp similar to Menlo, but it is an awful place to buy. Meat is 8 cents higher, eggs 52 cents per dozen, milk 13 cents a quart. All these figures mentioned are wholesale price. It is fierce. Fruit is out of the question. Oranges are $3.50 for 126 size and $5.50 for 288 size. Take me back to Menlo for buying.

A. B. Knowles, father of Mrs. John D. Bromfield, passed away at his home in San Jose last Monday. The deceased was a son of the late I. G. Knowles, who was well-known in the north end of the county. He at one time owned the greater portion of the land on which Daly City is located. The younger Knowles moved to the Garden City many years ago. A portion of the family still reside at Daly City. Mrs. Bromfield is the oldest child of a family of four.

W. H. Warren will open his Broadway grocery today.

REGULAR MEETING OF SUPERVISORS

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, September 17th at 10 a. m.

A communication was received from the San Mateo County Woman's Committee of the National, State and County Councils of Defense, asking for an appropriation of money to assist in meeting the expense connected with carrying on the work of the organization. Mrs. Finlay Cooke, president of the committee, addressed the board in the above matter.

The board, on motion of Brown, seconded by MacBain, voted to grant the request of the organization and appropriate the sum of $22 to be used for the purpose asked for in the communication.

A communication was received from the San Francisco Chronicle, asking the board to make an appropriation to secure an advertisement display space for the county in the booster edition the paper intends getting out next month ni connection with the Land Show to be held in San Francisco in October.

W. H. Cameron, head of the advertising department connected with the above edition, addressed the board and urged the members to make an appropriation as large as possible.

The board voted, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Brown, to take space in the paper to the amount of $150, the money to be paid ou tof the regular advertising fund of the county.

A communication was received from Charles M. Fisher, and other land owners of Belmont, asking that something be done toward putting Walnut avenue, between Middle road and the line of the Ross property in Belmont, in condition again for traffic.

Supervisor Brown addressed the board in the above and stated that the avenue had been left in poor condition at the time of the building of the State highway some time ago, and despite every effort on his part and the county surveyor to get the highway commissioners to put the road back in shape, no action had ever been taken.

On motion of Brown, seconded by MacBain, the petition presented by the Belmont people was received and ordered filed, and the clerk was in-

BANK OF ITALY TAKES OVER LOCAL CONCERN

METROPOLITAN BANKING FIRM NOW INCLUDES REDWOOD CITY IN ITS FIELD

The contemplated merger of the Redwood City Commercial Bank and the Savings and Loan Company of San Mateo County, with the Bank of Italy whose Head Offices are in San Francisco, has taken place. The two former institutions now form the Redwood City Branch of Bank of Italy. They form a link in the long chain of Bank of Italy's Branches now assuming a state-wide importance worthy of more than passing comment.

The transition of the two local institutions form a purely local standpoint tothat of a combined local and state-wide character is of immeasurable benefit to the community as a whole, and to the individuals who come within the scope of its service.

It means, generally, that the Bank of Italy brings to Redwood City all the facilities, strength, safety, organization and stability of a big city bank. It gives Redwood City a bank of over fifty-four millions in resources, and a capital and surplus fund of more than four million dollars.

One outstanding feature ,and an important one, is that San Mateo County is given a Trust Department within its limits by Bank of Italy. This Trust service, unavailable to the residents of this County until Bank of Italy made it possible, avails the community the much-needed facilities of a bank authorized to act as executor of wills, administrator or guardian of estates, assignee, depositary, attorney-in-fact or agent, under appointment by will or by any court. This facility will, in time, become a large factor in the development of the business within the community which otherwise would have necessarily gone to other parts of the state.

Bank of Italy's policy in taking over local institutions is broad and beneficial to the community. It conemplates no material changes whatever, the local men who were active in the upbuliding of the business of the institution merged, being retained in their respective active capacities to continue in the development and management of the business. In this connection it is noteworthy that the policy of Bank of Italy is strongly for local and community benefits. It realizes that the banks of a community are for that community, existing by the grace of that community and for the benefit of and the service to that community. In this Bank of Italy brings great benefit when it is remembered that the institution is a fifty-four million dollar bank.

And in line with its usual policy, loans of its clients in and tributary to Redwood City will be reduced to seven per cent per annum, if they are now at a greater rate of interest.

Bank of Italy does not make a practice of charging more than 7 per cent to its regular and permanent customers who are within the limits of its community operations.

It is unique in its operation and control. The stockholders number nearly two thousand and are, with but few exceptions ,residents of this state. The bank is thoroughly Californian in its operation, policy and purpose, is not controlled by any one man; and its founder, A. P. Giannini, its President, is actively engaged in the administration of its affairs today.

The local Advisory Board will be composed of E. F. Fitzpatrick, Chairman, M. F. X. Kavanaugh, M. T. Freitas, J. P. Weller, D. R. Stafford, E. H. Sampson, J. B. Perry, Antonio Genochio, John Souza, James McCormick and A. Boitano.

The active officers of the Redwood City Branch will be J. P. Weller, Manager, F. E. Fitzpatrick, Assistant Cashier and Eugene L. Sampson, Assistant Cashier.

Aside form the changing of the title of the old institutions to "Bank of Italy" there will be little surface indication of the important step. The transition from size of six hundred and forty thousand resources to that of reources aggregating more than fifty-four million, will, however, mean much tothe individual depositors and to the entire community in point of stability, organiaztion and facility at comand.

COUNCIL WILL LIMIT SALES OF LIQUOR

WILL STOP SALE OF "PACKAGE GOODS" IN SALOONS OF REDWOOD CITY

In an effort to put a stop to the practice of obtaining liquor for soldiers by civilians, the city council at its meeting last Monday night decided to limit the sale of liquor in saloons of the city to that which is consumed on the premises. To accomplish this purpose, City Attorney Mansfield was instructed to prepare for presentation at the next meeting an amendment to the ordinance governing saloons which will entirely prohibit the sale of liquor in packages. It is expected that this will go far to solve one of the most vexing problems which has confronted local officials in their efforts to enforce the law prohibiting the furnishing of liquor to soldiers in uniform.

Permits to hold all night dances were granted to the Redwood Sperry's baseball club for October 6th and to the Young Bachelors club for November 3rd.

City Marshal Coleman was given an increase of $25 per month in his salary. In making the motion for the increase Trustee Merrill complimented Marshal Coleman for his devotion to the duties of his office and called attention to the responsibilities of the position.

Frank J. Bawart applied for and was granted a permit to operate a motor bus line between this city and Palo A'to.

The ordinance creating the combined office of city electrician and assistant police office was finally adopted.

Plans and estimates of cost were ordered for an increased street lighting service on Main street from the railway crossing to Five Points and Broadway from Main street to Elwood.

Trustee Tuchsen was granted an additional 30 days leave of absence.

Trustees Mabie and McNulty and City Clerk Price were named as the official delegates of the city to the convention of the State League of Municipalities whic hmeets at Santa Rosa next week.

HALFMOON BAY PUPILS VISIT REDWOOD CITY

The twelve members of the senior class of the Halfmoon Bay high school accompanied by their principal, Scott Sterling, journeyed to Redwood City in one of the school's machines Thursday and were shown the many points of interest by Superintendent of Schools, Roy W. Cloud.

On arriving at the court house they were escorted to the court room where they spent a happy hour in listening to the attorneys making their arguments to the judge. The party then went through the court house building. The boys and girls were deeply interested in the treasurer's office. While there Mr. Chamberlain permitted several of the girls to heft a bag of gold containing $10,000.

At noon the party partook of a dainty luncheon prepared by the domestic science class of the high school. A trip was made through the Frank tannery where Mr. Henry Steinberger explained the process by which a raw hide must undergo to become sole and harness leather. At the San Carlos Dairy, Mr. Asa Hull explained the process of pastuerizing milk. Each pupil was presented with a bottle of this pasteurized milk. This completed the visit of the pupils and they went away happy.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Benson at Monterey on August 25th. Mr. Benson was formerly principal of the local grammar school and is now the principal of the Antioch grammar school.

NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENT IN NEXT DRAFT CONTINGENT

D. A. Raybould, for several years the popular San Mateo county correspondent for the Chronicle, will be among the next contingent of drafted men to leave for American Lake, Washington. This contingent will leave about October first. Young Raybould has also been the efficient secretary of the San Mateo City Chamber of Commerce. He is an able, studious young man with good habits. There is hardly any doubt but that he will be given a commission in a short time.

READY FOR THE SACRIFICE

That this country is at war and that its people are ready to make stern sacrifice in defense of the principles of universal democracy which have actuated the Nation since its birth has been brought strongly home to the people of San Mateo county this week. The first contingent of men to respond to the urgent call of the President has taken its departure on their way to do battle in foreign countries.

And these young men have gone bravely and smilingly to their duty. Freely and without complaint they have given up lucrative positions and sacrificed the comforts of home to risk their lives and to endure the hardships of army life in defense of our cherished institutions. Some of them may never return, some may come back maimed for life, but none of them expressed regret. Each left with a smile which expressed determination to do his duty, come what may.

San Mateo county feels proud of these men, and well she may. Taken all in all, they were a fine looking body of young men, the very flower of our youth. That each will do his duty, and do it well ,none can gainsay.

While not the first time young men have left our shores to do battle for their country, this is a conflict of far greater magnitude than that which we were called upon to face in the past. For this reason the sacrifice of these men is worthy of special recognition.

The suggestion of Trustee Geo. A. Merrill made at the farewell meeting Tuesday evening was a timely one and should have the earnest consideration of every man and woman of San Mateo county. Steps should be taken, and that without delay, to perpetuate the memory of these men Som permanent monument to their sacrifice should be erected—some means be taken to hand down to posterity a memorial of their patriotic devotion to duty.

DUCK HUNTING REMINISCENCES

STORY NO. 15 BY CLAUDE FOX

From far off Vancouver comes another question for me to answer, one propounded by George Winn, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Winn of this city. George and his brother Ed, who passed away but a short time ago, were both well-known to all the old timers, and many a web-foot each of the boys brought down in the creeks and marshes in this vicinity, with which they were familiar. George evidently keeps posted on what is going on here in Redwood, his boyhood home, for he has written the editor of the Times-Gazette, saying he has a boy who will soon reach the gun-age, who is very much interested in the articles appearing in this paper upon the above subject. May that boy live to enjoy the sport for which his heart is yearning ,is my heartfelt wish, and I sincerely trust that he has read carefully Story No. 10 and digested its contents, which, should the advice therein given be followed, would in a great measure preclude the possibility of an accident when the youngster starts forth with his first shot gun to bring down the quack-quacks that invade the neighborhood of his northern home.

But the question that boy's father wishes me to answer is surely a heart breaker. Some time ago I was asked by a young nimrod, "who was the best shot I ever hunted with," which I answered to the best of my ability. Now George Winn wants to know who was the worst shot I ever meandered through the marshland with. The former question required some mental effort to answer, because I had hunted with so many persons, under different condtions, with some more and some less, that it required considerable thought, in order to do justice to them all, to say just who was the best wing shot I had ever hunted with. The latter question requires no thinking whatever. As I have previously stated a good wing shot is born, not made, but that asymetrion was qualified by reason of the fact that no matter how proficient a man or boy may become in the handling of a shot gun, there will occasionally occur what are termed "off days", when the marksmanship of the individual will fall far short of what his standard should be. Now a poor wing shot has nothing but "off days". He starts out by hitting nothing and winds up after a life times experience with the same result. The latent power to become a good wing shot is not within him, was not born there, and never can be inducted into the man or boy who was not originally intended by nature to acquire that accomplishment.

Among my acquaintances there were two men, with both of whom I have hunted many times, each being afflicted with "duckitis" as much as myself, ardent to the extreme in the pursuit of wild water fowl, but who could not hit a flock of barns standing still, and whoever saw one of those monuments of the carpenters construction doing anything else, except back in Kansas. A single duck leading into a stool of decoys over which these two men were shooting actually shook its sides with laughter at their efforts in the shape of ker-plunk-plunk-plunk-plunk to bring that bird down, and a flock of the broadbills swinging over their decoys, with wings set back, and feet extended, just ready to light, would cause these two unfortunate would-be duck hunters to go into a state of nervous hysteria for the relief of which my old friend Dr. J. L. Ross would, through necessity, be compelled to prescribe something stronger than that which might be obtained at an ice cream parlor.

I cannot however answer the question George Winn has asked me. It is with a feeling of reluctance that this article has been written, for the reason that one of those to whom I have just referred, as fine a man as ever trod the streets of this city, has passed on over the divide and we shall see him no more. Were he here, in the living flesh, I should not hesitate to mention his name, for full well I know, with that characteristic smile which he always wore, his only reply would be, never mind "Pico, old boy, I'll do better next season."

The other is still living, hunting, or attempting to hunt, the elusive marshland birds, each year, with the same degree of success. As I deem it unjust to mention the name of one who has pased away and cannot refute the assertion which I have made, it is no more than right to protect the name of the living, when the two were pals together, and between them constituted a world beating team as being the poorest excuse for wing shots with whom I have ever had the pleasure of heroically attempting to bring into town what constituted the legal limit of the web-foots.

FORUM, BAPTIST CHURCH

On account of a disarrangement of Dr. Gandier's morning engagement, he could not be at the Forum meeting, Baptist church, Sunday evening. He sent as substitute Dr. Arthur H. Briggs, President of the Anti-Saloon League. Dr. Briggs gave a very strong address on temperance—"What has been gained already, and what we are are now expecting". He stated that prohibition is the greatest question now before the people for settlement. Internationalism can not be properly settled by whisky-soaked brains.

The progress of temperance is seen first in the wet states that have recently gone dry. Last election put four wet states into the dry column. Two others were lost only because of a large city in each. California was lost to prohibition through San Francisco. Ten more wet states will vote on the question in another year. In the second place the advance of prohibition is seen in dry states that have become dryer. Washington went dry the first time by 9,000 majority. On voting again last year she went dry by 147,000. Arizona on the second vote went dry three to one. Colorado gave a majority of 12,000 for prohibition on the first vote. When the issue was pressed upon her again by the saloon element she went dry by 75,000. These states after trying prohibition found it so beneficial that they rolled up greatly increased majorities on the second ballot. In the third place the advance of temperance is seen in the large cities that have gone dry. Seattle went wet at the first election by 15,000. In 1916, voting the second time in the state, the city went dry by 20,000. In 1914 Denver went wet by 8,000; in 1916 she went dry by 12,000.

Prohibition is now in the air. Working men are declaring for it; bankers want it. It was feared by labor that labor unions would be injured in Portland when the city went dry. But it turns out that the unions are stronger than ever there now. There is no demand for saloon property now. A saloon was sold by auction in Stockton recently. There were no bidders. After a long while a bid of $10 was received.

The saloon has no patriotism, no country, no God. Vice and drink go together.
